Rejlers engaged by Helsinki City Theatre

Rejlers has been engaged when Helsinki City Theatre is modernized. The assignment will be conducted by the company's consultant specialists within electrical design.

The theatre was built originally in 1967 and has since 1989 a side building called "Studio Elsa". The theatre is considered as one of the finest Finnish architectural milestones and the ongoing modernization work is accompanied by strict restrictions and regulations.

One reason for the renovation is that the building will be more energy efficient. Rejlers' assignment includes the design of various technical installation solutions. The total building area is 27 000 square meters.
